This book is about the idea of developing a synthetic technology of organic life that can become a powerful, nonpolluting source of fuel and food for the global economy. It is about chemical catalysts, the chemical basis of life, the essential plant-fungus-animal system which can replace the fossil-fuel-powered industrial economy with a fully renewable, eco-friendly, energy-intensive, and ultimately carbon neutral bioeconomy. It is about feedback loops that will spur and guide us toward such a revolution in human society. It is about the future. The Catalyst Earth: An Abundance Future.
